Tehran police clashes with families of detainees

Reports from Tehran tell of clashes between families of yesterday's detainees and security forces in Tehran in front of Vozara detention centre

Radio Zamaneh has been told that over 50 people, all families of the detainees who were arrested yesterday in the November 4th ceremonies, had gathered since this morning in front of the detention centre to follow up on the situation of their loved ones

Reportedly some of yesterday's detainees were transferred to this detention centre

One of the mothers told Radio Zamaneh: "The officers beat the families and addressed them using obscenities and told some us that for now we shouldn't be after the release of our children"

An eyewitness report tells of the families impeding a bus that was trying to transfer detainees from the centre to Evin prison

Human Rights Reporters Committee revealed that several buses and vans took detainees to Evin prison yesterday evening

In yesterday's demonstrations numerous election protesters were arrested. In the last two days, security forces also raided the homes and arrested numbers of political, women's and student activists in Tehran as well as other major cities of the country

Despite repeated warnings from security and armed forces, election protesters took to the streets of Tehran, Mashad, Shiraz, Esfahan, Tabriz, Ahvaz, Arak, Qazvin, Shahrekord and Rasht. The protesters faced baton wielding security forces and tear gas bombs. Reportedly many people in Shiraz and Tabriz were also arrested
